Truman, Cabinet Meet

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—President Truman reviewed the European economic crisis at a two-hour and 35-minute cabinet session which laid the ground work for his afternoon meeting with congressional leaders. The cabinet members, who never say much about their talks with the President, were more silent than usual as they left the session. It was the longest cabinet meeting since Mr. Truman became President. Secretary of Commerce Harrison told reporters that Mr. Truman would have a statement later.

Knew of War in '38

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—Louis C. Johnson, former assistant secretary of war, said today that he and President Roosevelt knew as early as 1938 "that war was coming and we could not stay out of it." Johnson, who served as assistant secretary from 1937 until 1940, testified before the Senate War Investigating Committee which is trying to learn why a detailed industrial mobilization plan was discarded after Pearl Harbor.

Says Girl Drowned

Lake George, N. Y., Oct. 23 (AP)—New York city's chief medical examiner found that Reva Reznick died of drowning, not of injuries, a grand jury investigating the death of the 23-year-old New York nurse, disclosed today. The jury released a report by Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales on a second autopsy which the medical examiner said "completely confirms the original autopsy," performed by the Warren county pathologist.

Accord Boy, 13, Dies Suddenly in Diabetic Coma

Coroner Says H. D. Smith Complained Tuesday of Illness; Taken to Hospital

Herbert D. Smith, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Smith of Accord, who had complained of an upset stomach, died suddenly in a diabetic coma at the Kingston Hospital about 12:50 p. m., on Wednesday, Coroner Arthur Chipp said today.

The youngster attended school on Tuesday, it was reported, but when complaining of illness he was taken to the home of his uncle, Edward Rose, in Kerhonkson. Mr. Rose later returned his nephew to the home of his parents in Accord.

Dr. Rachel Hallway of Kerhonkson was called when the illness continued. Mr. Chipp said, and the physician took the youth to the hospital about 5 a. m., Wednesday.

Although the youngster had diabetes since he was three, Coroner Chipp revealed, the boy had been living a normal life and was very popular in the Accord community.

Besides his parents, Charles A. Smith and Alice Rose Smith of Accord, young Smith is survived by a brother, Robert; several aunts and uncles; and a grandfather, Benjamin Rose of Kerhonkson.

Funeral services will be held from the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. John Hart of the Rochester Reformed Church will officiate. Burial will be in the Accord Rural cemetery. Bearers, who were close friends of the boy, will be Glenn Carle, Dickie Courtneyman, Barry Lawrence and George Schoonmaker.

Party Will Climb Mountain To Identify Plane Victim

Marion, Va., Oct. 23 (AP)—An official investigating party from the Greenville, S. C., army air base was expected here today to try to identify the body or bodies in the Cessna C-78, the wreckage of which was found atop 5,719-foot Mt. Rogers near here Tuesday morning.

Meanwhile, in New York, the body of the pilot of the plane had been identified as that of Christopher A. Sulzbach, 29, a former army pilot living at Richmond Hill, N. Y.

Sulzbach's wife and mother were notified in New York last night by a spokesman for the Central Airport Flying Service, of Camden, N. J., that the pilot had been identified as Sulzbach from

Spencer Has New School As Prospect

Squire of Krum Elbow Will Spend Million, He Says, if Necessary to Gain Objective

Fought With F.D.R.

Previous Renunciations of Region Undergo Some Alterations

Howland Spencer, "the squire of Krum Elbow," who engaged in a long and bitter feud with the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in regard to the name "Krum Elbow," is to return to the West Park Hudson River estate after an absence of nine years. There he is to establish a "school for Universal Government."

This announcement was made by Mr. Spencer on Tuesday when he visited the county clerk's office to place on record a deed to a portion of the estate. He announced that he was taking over the Krum Elbow estate which he disposed of in 1938 to Father Divine and that he was prepared "to spend a million dollars" to "establish the school."

Back in 1938 Mr. Spencer engaged in a long controversy with President Roosevelt over the name Krum Elbow, how it should be spelled and just where the "elbow" really was. In the summer of 1938 Mr. Spencer announced that the estate had been sold to Father Divine and was to become the "main heaven" of Father Divine and his followers. The estate is located across the Hudson from the Roosevelt estate which is on the east bank at Hyde Park and when it was announced that Father Divine was to take over the estate and erect one of his "eternal light" signs of "peace" opposite the home of President Roosevelt the move created a commotion and gained wide publicity.

Third Term Row

Later Howland Spencer became engaged in a political discussion with President Roosevelt over the third term and left the country, announcing that he could not continue to reside here so long as his "neighbor from Hyde Park" continued to be President. He took up his residence in the Bahamas, but while his present address is Hudson River estate, he is still in New York city, Mr. Spencer still retains his residence at Dunmoretown, Harbor Island, Bahamas. Mr. Spencer announced Tuesday that it was his intention to now return to the United States.

When the Krum Elbow estate was transferred to Father Divine in 1938, Mr. Spencer retained from the 500-acre estate the use of a cottage and 15 acres of land. In the cottage was kept many old pictures of the Howland family, dating back to Revolutionary days. In the early days, the Howland family owned a fleet of whaling vessels which made port off the Hudson River estate or anchored at the ancient dock on the river front. At the time the Krum Elbow estate was sold to Father Divine, it was announced that Mr. Spencer would take up his residence in the south where he had extensive real estate holdings. However, later he announced that he was leaving the country.

For some time past activities at the Father Divine Krum Elbow estate have been quiet. When the cult first took over several of the "angels" lived on the farm, operated it and conducted a gasoline station on Route 9-W and did a thriving business in serving meals. Many local people used to frequent the place to get pork chops and other delicacies which were sold for a nominal sum. Meals frequently were served for 20 cents and those who patronized the "heaven" testified that the food was "excellent."

Two Plead Guilty

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 23 (AP)—Two Philadelphia youths who were arrested August 5 after they allegedly engaged in a gun battle with a Westchester Parkway policeman while riding in a stolen car, pleaded guilty today to charges of second degree robbery.

The youths, Julius Berce, 20, and James Robert Hazlett, 19, both of (30 East Silver street) Philadelphia, had been indicted on charges of first degree robbery and first degree grand larceny by a Dutchess county grand jury.

Judge John R. Schwartz set next Thursday as the date for sentencing them.

Accessory Lack Hits Car Owners in Three Categories

Batteries, Chains, Freeze Solutions Are in Short Supply in City

Motorists apparently will have several worries for the next few months to keep the old car rolling, particularly if they are in need of such articles as new batteries, tire chains and the all important anti-freeze solutions, all of which are in short supply at this time.

Inquiry among battery dealers however brought some encouragement. For some time there has been a serious shortage of batteries due in part to a heavy demand and a shortage of lead. The other factor, which apparently has been eliminated for the time being, was a shortage of battery cases due to a two months strike in the hard rubber industry which supplies the hard rubber cases for storage batteries. This strike has been settled and it was reported by battery men that within the next few months there will be a glut of new batteries by the first of the year, the battery situation would be improved.

One distributor said he was getting about 60 per cent of demand at the present time and that the battery situation presently was "tight" but that within the next couple of months it was expected the situation would ease up. Dealers are now planning to have the next 60 days at Bloomfield, N. J., to supply the eastern trade and this, it was explained, would probably ease the local situation.

"Old cars on the highways are experiencing dead battery trouble very frequently and the replacement rate is high," said a dealer.

This creates an unusual demand just at the time when the supply is low, however, we expect the situation to clear up somewhat."

Anti-freeze Is Scarce

Anti-freeze, both the permanent and semi-permanent types, will be tight this winter, one large distributor said. He explained that his firm was getting only about 60 per cent of the requirements and he also reported that tire chains would be scarce. "We are getting about 10 per cent of what we need in chains," he said. This is due to the lack of steel.

"There are many other things which are also in short supply," reported the same distributor. "Recently there was shortage of carburetors and some manufacturers shipped out cars without carburetors, expecting the dealers to supply carburetors by either using spares on hand or through second-hand carburetors which were rebuilt and placed on the new cars. Yes, the automotive trade has its headaches, too," he concluded.

Yesterday a meeting of battery men was held in New York city and there was feeling there that the battery situation would be eased by the first of the year.

On heels of this comes an announcement by several of the large gasoline distributors that they will be compelled to cut the gasoline supply by 15 per cent to stations. Standard of New Jersey, operators of 25,000 stations in the east from Maine to Louisiana yesterday instructed their dealers to lower the price of gasoline to dealers whereby the dealers will receive 85 per cent of their requirements. This rationing will become effective in 17 states and may continue for at least ten days. Other major oil companies will follow the plan, it was stated. An all-time peak demand and a distribution problem is the cause of the temporary shortage.

Recent mild weather which has brought out many motorists who ordinarily would not be taking long trips has increased the demand and aggravated the condition, it was reported.

Four Boys Started Goldman Blaze, Police Discover

Children Set Fire to Box and Blaze Got Beyond Their Control

The fire which destroyed a barn and damaged a house on the property of George Goldman, 88 Newkirk avenue Tuesday was started by four boys, three of them nine and the other six years old, the local police learned today.

Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss said that an investigation by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Wesley Cramer through the cooperation of Fire Chief Joseph Murphy led to discovery of the source of the blaze today.

Information supplied by persons of the neighborhood also aided in tracing the origin of the fire, the chief said.

The children set fire to a pasteboard box, the investigation revealed, and this got beyond their control. The fire was started with matches which one of the boys got from his home.

The three older boys left the blaze near the barn when it appeared beyond their control, the chief said, and the younger boy remained behind, for awhile, but finally also decided to abandon the scene.

A neighbor looked out of the window, the chief said, and spread the alarm when she saw that the flames had reached the barn which had been used as a garage.

Firemen were called at 4:40 p. m. yesterday and the recall was at 6:58 p. m. The flames had gained considerable headway before the firemen arrived.

Hamilton Back Again

Henry Hamilton, 48, of Chichester, apparently failed to get out of town as instructed when City Judge Matthew V. Cahill gave him a suspended sentence on a disorderly conduct charge Wednesday. He was brought before the judge today, who considered that it was his 14th such appearance, and imposed a sentence of 180 days in the county jail.

Ramadier Says His Cabinet Found Consultation Urgent

Paris, Oct. 23 (AP)—Premier Paul Ramadier said today his newly streamlined cabinet had found it necessary to consult the parliament concerning the "danger to the republic" which he said was inherent in the Communist and de Gaulle ideologies.

The government yesterday called the parliament to a session starting next Tuesday, though it had been scheduled to end its summer vacation until Nov. 13.

Ramadier told a news conference today the political "climate of France, which has suffered too long, is charged with electricity. Nerves are on edge."

In this situation, he said, labor movements are "being transformed into political movements." He added, "The objective of these movements is the collapse of French authority and the halting of French production."

"On the other hand," he said, "there is another diametrically

Crews Work To Head Off Advance

Five Fires Are Raging Out of Control in State, AP Survey Reports

Visibility Is Cut

Heavy Pall of Smoke Cuts Rangers' Views of Blazes

A large force of men worked desperately today to stop the most serious forest fire in the county near Ellenville as another near Spring Glen fanned by a south wind broke out for the second time this week and was reported spreading rapidly.

The fire warden at Mohonk Mountain described the one near Ellenville as a "terrible fire," and it was reported today to have already burned over 3,000 acres in the Lake Maratana area of the Shawangunks.

Crews of men prepared this morning to head off the fire along the old Minnewaska road in what is known as the "huckleberry country," beyond Ellenville. It had threatened damage to the High Point fire tower and at one time headed toward the lake which is the Ellenville water supply.

Other fires were reported raging in Orange and Sullivan counties and one in Orange county was reported headed toward Greenwood Lake and the New Jersey line.

The fire, according to the Associated Press, was burning on a seven-mile front in the southern part of the county and the flames were reported skirting the 27,000 acre estate of Commerce W. Averell Harriman.

Five Are Out of Control

A statewide report from Albany said five fires raged out of control as Governor Dewey's order closing the woods and open lands of the state to hunters, became effective last midnight.

Fire wardens and rangers in the county reported visibility poor in virtually all areas of the county as a haze spread over the region.

A fire in the Gardiner area which earlier in the week was reported at a serious threat to the woodlands there, was reported under control and another spreading from the town dump in Highland, was reported checked.

Others in the Ashokan reservoir section this week were checked before they spread seriously through the woods.

Ranger Jacob Gray of Kerhonkson this morning said visibility from the High Point fire tower was so limited that it was impossible to tell just how large an area the fire was burning over. The wind was blowing away from Ellenville and the fire was being directed toward the Awooting area.

Gray said the fire started about noon Wednesday and spread rapidly through the tinder dry forests. Back fires were set around the Ellenville water supply area to divert the fire and it was reported that no buildings were in danger. The fire is in heavily wooded areas where yellow pine abounds and when the flames reach these pine forests, flames shoot up 50 feet in the air and jump great distances to spread the fire.

It was reported that the fire in the Mountaintale area was still burning toward Oak Ridge but observers were unable to tell the extent of the fire today because of low visibility and the heavy pall of smoke which hangs in the valleys. The fire last night was reported "partly under control" with a large gang of men battling to bring the fire under complete control.

Several minor fires were reported Wednesday, all of which were brought under control and extinguished without much damage. Early discovery of these blazes and the quick response of firefighters, rangers, and volunteers in preventing serious damage.

Watson Hollow Fire Is Out

From the Mt. Tremper fire tower today it was reported the fire in the upper Watson Hollow area had been extinguished yesterday without much damage. A small fire was also reported checked in the Sundown area. A small fire near Shokan was also put out quickly. The Mt. Tremper observ-

Oldest Burglar Retires
London, Oct. 23 (AP)—Britain's oldest burglar retired in disillusionment today, deploring his age and clumsiness and the hard times that have come to house-breakers in modern England. James Ferguson, 90, who in the last 47 years has received jail sentences totaling 45½ years, had his latest sentence commuted recently on condition that he retire to a Salvation Army hostel. An Oxford court had described him as "the dean of British burglars." "I can't run like I used to," Ferguson said in his farewell interview before retiring to a hostel at Brighton. "And besides I'm getting clumsy. I knock things over on the job. Anyway, country places are hardly worth breaking into now."

Emergency Right Granted
Chicago, Oct. 23 (AP)—Taxicab drivers have an emergency right to disregard ordinary traffic regulations in event they are racing the stork, says Traffic Court Judge John J. Griffin. He dismissed a speeding charge yesterday against Donald Coyer, 32, a cab driver, arrested for speeding upon his plea that he was rushing Mrs.

Shirlee Delman, 20, an expectant mother, to a hospital. A physician testified any delay in getting Mrs. Delman to the hospital would have been dangerous, and also said Chicago should have more ambulances. In dismissing the case Judge Griffin said: "If I follow my conscience 50,000 expectant mothers in Chicago will pray for me."

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS

The chief interest in the French elections on this side of the water is that they seem to mark the turning of a tide. For a long time—or it seemed like a long time—Americans appeared to be stymied in their own efforts at reconstruction. Too many of them stood around wringing their hands, believing we were going to have war with Russia immediately if not sooner. What was the use trying to do anything about unity in the world if we were all going to be blown up by atomic bombs or shot full of deadly germs? But when the situation got bad enough, something happened, as it always does.

Three strong men spoke within a few days of each other—Churchill, Byrnes and Marshall. None of them believes in early war with Russia; none of them believes war inevitable. They think if we watch our step, keep prepared, help western Europe get on her own feet and begin to carry her own load, war can be averted.

Russia, too, began to fear that talk had gone too far. Vishinsky still shouts but Stalin helped to calm, in some slight degree, the roaring wind.

Then all turned and watched the French people go to the polls. They have elected the men backed by de Gaulle. Frenchmen believe now, as they did in the war, that he stands for Free France—and that is what they want. This election does not settle everything. Confusion still clouds the air. But it does settle the fact in the eyes of the world that France wants the same things that the United States wants—individual freedom and dignity, a chance at a life of her own.

France has shown herself having one strong party. Even if mistaken in many details of method, it still is better for France than a dozen weak parties. Frenchmen have about two years to observe the effect of this election and build up another strong party to oppose de Gaulle if he takes too autocratic a hand.

TRAVEL AT HOME

The war increased the travel-urge. The G.I.'s who had been uprooted and carried thousands of miles away came home realizing there was still a lot of the world they wanted to see. Their families had had their appetites for foreign scenes whetted by the military experiences of their sons and fathers.

Since travel abroad is not yet to be recommended for the sight-seer, the See-America-First urge has developed. And a good thing it is. State governments and state-centered industries have responded to this junketing impulse and are issuing attractive booklets setting forth the facts and some of the glamour about the individual state. Wisconsin's story, for example, has just come to this desk.

Thumbing through the brochure, the resolution is born to visit that domain. Some 40 miles out of Chicago is the southern boundary of the state which claims to be America's top producer of milk, eggs, butter and cheese; which raises half the country's canning peas; ranks second in the cranberry output and is up front with its cabbages and cherries. Industrially paper is its first product, with farm machinery and footwear close to the top. The tourist is enticed by the story of the lakes and resorts, of the views and the scenery of Wisconsin's woods and waters, America's northland. Seeing-America-First is a good idea.

WINGS

This is the time of year when, in the colder parts of the country, the little brown caterpillar is so busy. He may be seen hurrying across the walk, over the lawn or the porch. His goal is a protected corner of the house, the under limb of a tree or the spot where the screens will be stored undisturbed for the long winter. Once he's found his sheltered niche, he begins his terrible, his arduous labor of cocoon-making. It will be a snug retreat for the old weather.

But what a future he has! He who crawls on his furry belly these cool fall days will fly in spring sunshine on gossamer wings. Is

TRUMAN AND ANDERSON

There is this that is right about Harry Truman's attitude toward the Luckman Dramatization and Clinton P. Anderson's attitude—as contradictory as they are.

Harry Truman is faced by two conditions: 1. That George Marshall committed this country to some specific figure of food exports in a relationship to the export of 18,000,000 tons of food last harvest year and that those European countries (16 to 1), which come within the scope of the Marshall Plan, expect a delivery of about 1,500,000 tons a month which we do not possess to deliver.

Therefore Mr. Truman wants to conduct a campaign for voluntary abnegation among the American people which will produce as many tons as possible to make up the difference between what is now impossible and what may perhaps be possible. It is hard arithmetic, but he does not want to let George Marshall down, nor does he want to let Europe down. Criticism of the figures or the plan of sacrifice does not necessarily mean criticism of aid to Europe. It may, in fact, assure such aid.

2. Harry Truman wants to sustain government buying of farm commodities at high prices during a campaign year even though farm prices have run beyond parity. He does not wish farm prices to collapse or even to return to parity until after 1948, if at all. Although this produces an inflationary price structure in the larger cities, he risks it.

One of these propositions is defended on the ground that it will save Europe from Communism; the other that it will save the United States from a Republican victory.

Clinton P. Anderson, an extraordinarily competent Secretary of Agriculture, knows, because he understands his job, that the United States has a short crop in grains this year because of the drought:

2. That we can, at most, export about 13,000,000 tons of food this year comfortably;

3. That George Marshall has overpromised and is asking for stretching beyond our capacity in this harvest year;

4. That if we attempt now to export 1,500,000 tons of food to Europe we shall have a terrifying shortage next March, April and May which will be calamitous in the United States and devastating to Europe;

5. That there is so much poultry and so many eggs in the United States that it is foolhardy, if not dangerous, to have a poultryless and eggless day;

6. That the great need of the world is fats and that reducing fat production on cattle on the hoof will do incalculable harm.

All of this, Clinton P. Anderson did not tell me, but it can be accepted from his previous attitude. His 1946 food campaign, his public contradiction of Presidential statements and from the reports which are available that that is his general and correct position. That position is the one that Anderson can consistently support. In fact, no Secretary of Agriculture, no honest on his job, could take any other position. It is a matter, of course, of perspective.

Unfortunately, the President was sold a bill of goods to accept a program prepared by an anonymous person or group which Charles Luckman admitted was handed to him, by whom he did not say. The fact is that Secretary of Agriculture Anderson was by that time, and Herbert Hoover, who has been Truman's food expert, was by-passed, as he is a private citizen, but the Secretary of Agriculture has a constitutional responsibility which cannot be ignored. Instead the Luckman Committee was created to dramatize, by the hookster scare device, shortages which do not exist, while they ignore such a shortage as fats which does exist.

The confusion created by Luckman's Dramatization would ordinarily be meaningless, but in a year of a reduced grain harvest it must become a menace at the end of the harvest year—a menace not only to the United States but to those whom we hope to aid. Congress ought to find out who wrote the plan that was handed to Luckman and who ordered the passing of the Secretary of Agriculture. They may discover the wit of the smart boys whose resignations Truman had accepted before Henry Wallace scared him into taking actions which run counter to his judgment. CORONARY THROMBOSIS

One of your friends has had a heart attack—coronary thrombosis—and dies without recovering consciousness; another friend has had not one but several attacks and is still able to carry on his business. The explanation is that there are several degrees of seriousness of coronary thrombosis but, fortunately, most patients survive the first attack.

Then when you read that in an attack of coronary thrombosis the patient is put to bed for six weeks, you may wonder why such complete rest is necessary. In the first place, complete rest means that the heart gets the best possible amount of rest which gives it its best chance to get healed from the break of the blood vessels. For instance, even to walk slowly would make the room causes the heart to do three times as much work as when the patient is lying at complete rest.

Perhaps you wonder why, if the patient is at complete rest—no exertion whatever—his doctor orders no visitors except the family for several days or weeks. This is because when visitors come they talk and so does the patient. The patient keeps alert to hear what the visitor has to say and also to answer the visitor's questions. It is well known that the heart rate may be increased 10 to 20 beats after the visit of a friend. Usually the presence of a member of the family comforts the patient and causes an increase in the heart rate but there are, of course, some exceptions.

You might also wonder why the diet is so closely watched. A heavy meal or food causes gas which pushes the floor of the chest up against the heart and interferes with its action. Liquids of all kinds are reduced because this means more blood to pump. Just enough fluid is given to prevent congestion in the kidneys. Any excess of fluid is driven out by the heart medicine—digitalis—which not only strengthens and regulates the heart beat, but also drives water out of the tissues and also out of the kidneys.

Bed rest, reduced diet and reduced fluids are often all that is necessary in the treatment of coronary thrombosis.

there really anything more wonderful than that in all nature?

Man who has watched the brown caterpillar has tried to pattern himself after him. He, too, has learned to leave the earth, to fly in the sunshine. But man can soar only by putting wings on a machine. The far cleverer caterpillar has learned how to grow wings on his own body.

It's surprising, how many people outside of schools are now looking for geography maps.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. 22.—Offhand I can think of no more hypocritical fraud on the people of the United States than the self-inflicted doctrine of equality among and between mankind. No one person in a million believes in this. Even those few who do so believe qualify their attitude with elaborate explanatory notes. The rest of us only pretend to believe that the wicked and the good, the ignorant and the educated, the yel-low and the brave, or even the dull and the amusing, are equal.

It is true that a minority of religious persons, by their habitual proximity to God, keep themselves reminded of their limited belief in equality. That is to say, they pinch themselves daily, or once a week and assert, privately, that they humbly waive superiority as souls. However, it does not follow that even these subscribers believe in universal equality of persons, the dirty and the clean, the lazy and the diligent, and so forth.

Americans regard as virtues some qualities which, on examination, plainly prove to be mere affectations. Cleanliness is one. The hygienic person, abhors the unwashed and uncorbed and even the unpressed, and feels superior to him. So robust this feeling is that one firm operated by progressive American business men spent millions profitably flatter the self-satisfaction of the one group and drowning in the vile pool of their loathing those who have E.O. Yet, short of that point at which the nonbathers break out in leprosy, what authority tells us that the clean are nicer than the soiled? And who being tidy would deny, under confidential vows, that he felt superior to the others, who include, significantly, many of the poor?

The Christian policy toward poverty, which by the way, is in part, paraphrased if not frankly cribbed by political candidates, here builds a paradox. For, while it is elaborate to say that cleanliness is next to Godliness, still cleanliness is highly respected. And still poverty and filth are complementary, and not always perforce.

We honor heroes and despise the blameless. Pretendies who are afraid in danger and wisely run away. That is a standard of virtue that we just made up. Without research, I venture the suspicion that it was propagated by barons or military executives to overcome the natural and not at all despicable desire of men to escape pain, captivity and death. Man saw danger and he ran. Before medals were invented this was recognized as the intelligent thing to do. There was no public opinion to inflame the hero or coerce the coward and the individual consulted only himself. Animals, in their natural condition, are wiser in such emergencies than men. Two dogs meet. They sniff grass. They sniff each other. They sniff. One, defeated in repartee, suddenly leaps at the other. The other runs. It is unsmart, is he ashamed? Why should he be?

A cat runs away a hundred times what she could slash a burrowing dog to tatters. Is she a coward or serene in her own esteem without respect for the opinions of mankind?

We even send men to jail for laziness in some communities. In gloomy mumbles at the wake we observe that poor Ed, or George, that wonderful man, actually worked himself to death. It would be made to add, "the fool" but not necessarily impertinent.

The oriental broomstick-cavalry in which Henry Wallace got implicated under the godship of Prof. Nicholas Roerich is committed to the proposition that most of mankind consists of factory seconds, manufacturers' samples, spoiled victrolas and so forth. These wretches who rode across the moon with bulls and billygoats on broiled on their vestments and yaller-eyed tomcats hanging on behind, believed furiously in superiority and the reverse. The inferiors are simply offal from the manufacture of a supernatural master spirit. One of these bright acorns there will be a terrible fire; a holocaust, which will sweep the premises and destroy all but this spiritual aristocracy, who will walk indifferently through the flames because destiny fireproofed them. Wallace flirted with a doctrine which frankly hold that any one who preaches equality is an idiot.

Individuals, Americans admire themselves as the most desirable beings yet produced. We believe in equality only as a social and political cliché. It would be boastful and bad manners to say "I am the best" and a great

Influence of 'Military Mind' Is Being Felt in Our Government; Censorship at Source Contemplated

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 23.—The influence of the "military mind" is slowly but surely making itself felt in the American government.

A new form of censorship at the source is contemplated. If put into effect, it will be applied to the entire civilian government. It will tend to squelch criticism of the government and also will set off a chain of reaction of disbelief throughout the country in what the government does say.

President Truman will have before him shortly a set of regulations drafted for him by subordinates. The ostensible objective is "security"—a phrase which was used for many purposes during the war and not always with a military need.

The definition of "confidential information" in the draft of the proposed regulations for document handling and transmission of such information runs as follows: "Confidential information is information the unauthorized disclosure of which, although not endangering the national security, would be prejudicial to the interests or prestige of the nation, any governmental activity or any disclosure or would cause serious administrative embarrassment or difficulty."

This originated, to be sure, out of the requirements of the President's loyalty committee dealing with Communism and is designed to enable government officials to transmit documents to one another without fear of unauthorized disclosure.

During the war no censorship law was deemed necessary, as the press exercised a voluntary censorship. Various efforts have been made from time to time to get Congress to pass bills giving "unauthorized disclosure" and "dissemination of information" statutes take care of the situation adequately insofar as it concerns disclosure by a government employee of the contents of any confidential document to an outsider.

But there is a line of demarcation between truly secret documents which have a "security" meaning and the careless labeling of anything which some bureaucrat merely wants to keep away from the eyes of a vigilant press.

It would be very difficult for a government employee to talk to any member of the press if he felt information imparted would in the judgment of his superior be construed as likely "to cause serious administrative embarrassment or difficulty."

Also it cannot be left to government employees to decide what would or would not be "prejudicial to the interests or prestige of the nation, any governmental activity or an individual."

Plainly there never was a better scheme to cover up fraud and scandal in government, as well as bad administration, than the proposed regulation. Miscreants could readily hide behind such a censorship wall.

It would be incredible if President Truman ever approved any such language. If he did, he might find himself on the defensive in the next political campaign. He might also find Congressional investigating committees boring into the subject quite extensively, with consequent publicity that would not be politically helpful to an administration seeking continuance in office beyond 1948.

It may be confidently expected that Truman will emasculate the regulation and confine it to the unauthorized disclosure of documents marked as "restricted" by someone high enough up in a government department to distinguish between public and private information.

What is more important than the regulation ultimately to be used in such a regulation is that the draft, quoted above should emerge at all. Certainly it would be the sheerest hypocrisy for American officials to prate about the "iron curtain" and restrictions imposed by the Russians and at the same time issue an edict virtually forbidding government employees to talk to the press. Censorship at the source can be far more effective in suppressing the truth than actual censorship before publication. For if the press cannot get the information in the first instance, there would be little for a government censor to pass upon.

Sooner or later the "military mind" in our government must discover that the Bill of Rights really means freedom to gather information to which the people are entitled and that, in peacetime at least, government must be able to conduct its affairs administratively as to protect really secret information from leaking out. It is a simple problem to train government officials how to follow the ordinary rules of discretion or common sense. Threats of dismissal on "loyalty" issues are superfluous where the officials in charge of information are possessed of an understanding of what is or is not dangerous to tell the press. Senator A. H. Wicks Will Be Master of Ceremonies; Pastor Saunders Appreciates Help

Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston will act as master of ceremonies during the official cornerstone laying of the new Central Baptist Church, 229 East Strand street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. P. N. Saunders, pastor, said today.

The laying of the cornerstone on Sunday will be another eventful step in the path of outstanding work accomplished by the local pastor since his coming to Kingston from Philadelphia, Pa., in 1944.

During the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Saunders at the local church he has been active in increasing the membership which now totals 250. He also was instrumental in organizing the young people's Christian Club. He has officiated at 21 adult and 32 child baptisms at the church.

Besides his active work in Kingston, the Rev. Mr. Saunders is treasurer of the Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Association and is the recording secretary of the Northeastern General Baptist Convention. He also has been a member of the Central Hudson Association.

In announcing his appreciation to the people of Kingston for their concerted efforts to aid in the building of the church, the Rev. Mr. Saunders has prepared this statement:

"I want the citizens of Kingston to know that I am very grateful for the opportunity of being a part of this great city and I am very thankful for your loyal support. I trust that the citizens of this city will help the congregation of the new Central Baptist Church to finish this new edifice which has been under construction for two years.

"I do believe that we, the American people, a free-loving people who have just fought and won a war of peace and good will, will recognize the fact that the war was not won only by military force alone but with the help of the church which had a big part.

"The peace of the world which is needed so badly, must first begin in our churches. We must build our hope and our hope is in the church where Christian training for the good and welfare of all is maintained.

Sunday's dedicatory program also will include remarks by Mayor William F. Edelmuth, scriptural reading by Rabbi Herbert Bloom, invocation, the Rev. Osterhout Phillips, and music by the senior choir of the New Central Baptist Church, The Rev. Edward V. Winder, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will assist during the offertory.

After benediction by the Rev. William Peckham, pastor of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, refreshments and a social will be held at the Y.M.C.A.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Oct. 22—Citizens in the village Sunday afternoon included Joe Kelly, well-known Kingston war veteran and newspaperman. Accompanying Mr. Kelly, on a drive to the reservoir, were Mr. and Mrs. Al Melville and their bright little daughter, Nancy. Mr. Melville, a noted athlete, is employed at the E.B.M. plant in Poughkeepsie. Mrs. Melville is a daughter of Henry Fischang, a former resident of Shokan, and a granddaughter of Ber. Dudley of Acorn Hill.

Mrs. Ollie Faulkner, of Rockford, Ill., is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. W. Longyear, and sister, Miss Edna Longyear.

Grant Avery and family and Mrs. Frank Barringer have moved into their new home overlooking the west basin of the Ashokan. The house, which is a journey's summer place of Mrs. Rufus Van Aken on the west, was built by Justus North who also laid out the massive stone chimney of creek cobblestones from the Bushkill and the fireplace of white marble slabs.

Mrs. Robert K. Story, who was taken ill just previous to her departure from the Shokan Tonne Mountain place earlier in the month, is improving slowly according to word received from her daughter, Mabel Lasher Story, of Brooklyn.

October, 1857, a lot was surveyed by Col. John B. Davis for the Olive and Hurley O. S. Baptists as a site for their proposed new meetinghouse. The land was bought of the Dullio family, large property holders here in the old days, and the church building was erected the same year. This stately edifice standing now in the center of the village at the head of the reservoir road, was the third house of worship to be used by the Baptists, the preceding one having been along the Plank Road this side of the Hurley line. Hewitt Osborn, Athens resident, who is a member of the church board, recalls that this second meetinghouse, adjoined the residence of Dr. Abram C. Hull, who was a grandfather of Mrs. Elva H. B. B. of Kingston.

The thick planting of spruce trees on the reservoir preserve in the environs of the East Butternutkill have at last been thinned out—but good—in the course of preliminary work on the Route 28 re-alignment at that point. The small logs have been neatly piled and the hundreds of stumps probably will soon be removed by a bulldozer in "big time." The plans call for a bridge or huge culvert similar to one at the Back Brook at Boiceville. It should be a bit oversized, too, according to local wiseacres—who will tell you that both branches of the Butternutkill go on some "awful rampages" besides, though one would never suspect as much from their present feeble trickling.

A second operation, performed Friday upon Virgil Gordon, Ashokan Reservoir maintenance foreman, was pronounced successful, though Virgil still is a very sick man according to reports from his bedside at the Benedictine Hospital.

Echo of Past: Early settlers in Woodstock and the date of their coming to Olive's neighboring town on the north were as follows: Philip Bonesteel, 1770 (on the old Hudler farm of later years); Edward Short, 1776; whose "Yankee town" clearing was afterwards owned by David and Moses Short; Peter Short, 1788; Jacob DuBois, 1788; Philip Shults, 1788; Ephraim VanKeuren, 1788. Also, John Hutchins, 1790; William Elting, 1786 and Mather Kelp, 1787. Some of these Woodstock pioneers, notably the Shorts, were victims of Indian and Tory raiders during Revolutionary War times.

Elizabeth B. Terwilliger, who died in Kingston Sunday had a number of relatives and friends in this section where she formerly made her home for many years. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey whose residence at the west end of the Shokan Bridge was bought and occupied by Dr. William Kemble. She was the widow of Edward Terwilliger whose sister, Mrs. Frank Warren, resides this side of Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Terwilliger made their home for several years on the Christopher Warren farm near Tonne Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindal of Holbrook, L. I., are occupying the Route 28 place which they bought recently of Mrs. Frank Barringer. Each passing week or fortnight sees some new people come to town as residents, and Shokan people find themselves well pleased with the quality of these periodical increases in our population.

Capt. Frank Jackson on Tuesday drove Paul James, local War I veteran, to Woodstock where Dr. Hans Cohn gave Paul his first complete checkup since his serious illness of the past summer. His condition was found to be good.

Some of those truck Behemoths which the Corbello contracting firm is using on the Route 28 job were engaged Saturday in hauling dirt from the west end job to operation headquarters at the Wendt Garage, where grading is being done. According to one workman on the job, those giant carriers have a capacity of 14 yards and cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. A far cry, this, from the three-mule wagons, manned by "skinners" of color from Virginia that moved mountains of earth on the Ashokan Reservoir construction job!

Oct. 21, 1856, a Freemont-for-President meeting in the Shokan schoolhouse was addressed by Samuel Gordon who extolled the virtues and capabilities of the famous soldier and Whig candidate. On the 21st, the Democrats gathered at Wm. D. Beadie's place where Theodore K. Westbrook exercised his famed oratorical powers in support of James Buchanan. It proved to be Buchanan's year, and the Whig's later decided to call themselves "Republicans."

Aftermath of the local baseball season: The Ashokans were the winners in nine successive games. The boys played more than nine games, however.

Charles Dufflo plans to move his sawmill from the Wiederspiel place on the mountain over to his farm in the Acorn Hill neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Dufflo are keeping five cows and they put most of the milk into butter. "Charlie," a veteran of the first war, contemplates switching his membership from the Phenicia Legion Post to the new Olive group at Tonnore. That will save him many miles of travel on post meeting nights.

Peter Gebelstein, who was staying here at the home of his brother, Henry, is reported to be getting along well at the Benedictine Hospital.

Sunday guests at the Reformed parsonage, home of the Rev. Richard Coons and wife were Mr. and Mrs. H. Acker of Oneonta, where Mrs. Coons was graduated from the normal school.

Arthur Haver, World War II veteran and resident of the Samsonville Heights section, drives daily to and from his work at the Ashokan garage of his grandfather Alonzo Haver.

Having an Anniversary: Mr. and Mrs. Burton Feeny, Boiceville residents of long standing, will have been married 37 years, Monday, October 27. Mr. Feeny was born and brought up on the farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Feeny, not far from the couple's present home. Mrs. Feeny whose maiden name was Ada Berry, is a faithful attendant of the Shokan Reformed Church and a working member of the Olive Red Cross. The couple were married by the Rev. Charles Gorse, pastor of the Shokan M.E. Church.

It begins to appear now that shady awnings in front of stores were erected for the benefit of those individuals to stand under while trying to sell or give away rather mysterious alleged religious pamphlets.

Absent-minded Professor's Wife—You haven't kissed me for three weeks.
Professor—My word—I wonder whom I have been kissing.

Veteran—Yeah, I once put almost 300 men out of action.
Youngster—My, didn't you get a medal?
Vet—No, I was the camp cook.

Two people can get into more mischief than one.

Motorist—These chickens in the road cause a lot of accidents.
Farmer—But not as many as the chickens beside the driver.

Thump—Could you give a poor fellow a bite?
Housewife—I don't bite myself, but I'll call the dog.

He—Do you believe in love at first sight?
She—Well, I think it saves a lot of time.

An invitation to a wedding involves more trouble than a summons to police court.

Local Woman—My husband is the only man who ever kissed me.
Neighbor—Are you bragging or complaining?

Teacher—pointing to a deer at the zoo—Johnny, what is that?
Johnny—I don't know.
Teacher—What does your mother call your father?
Johnny—Don't tell me that's a louse.

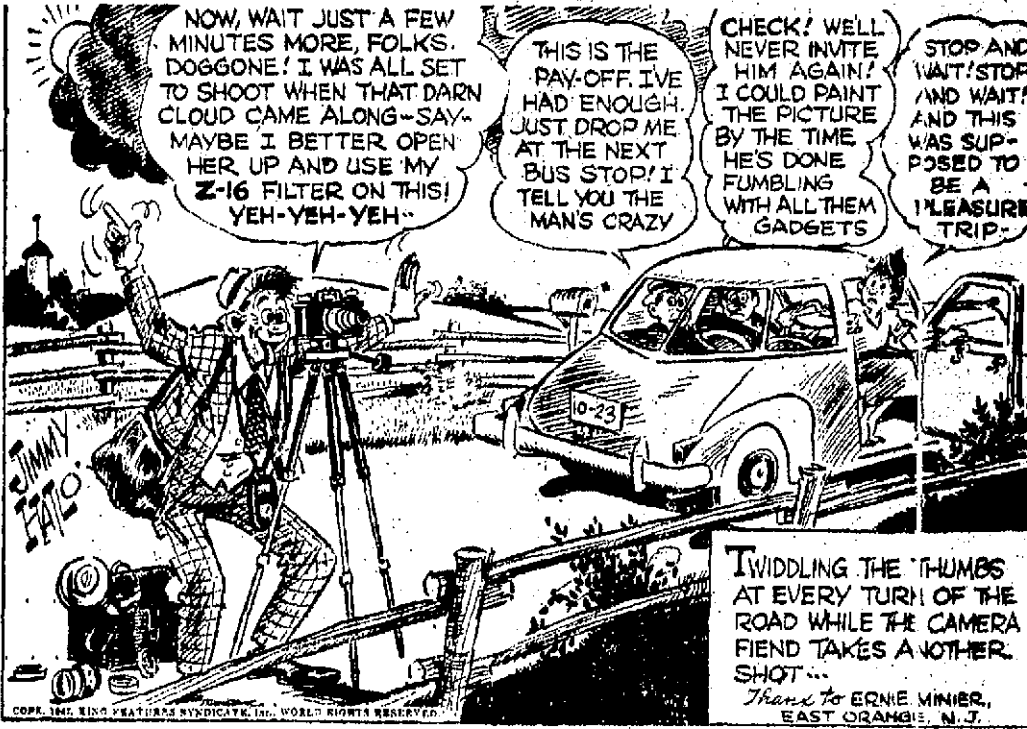

Blond—Marry me and your smallest wishes will always be fulfilled.

Frieda—I am able to do that myself. What I want is a man who will gratify my biggest wishes.

Two men were talking together in the public library. Said one: "The dime novel has gone. I wonder what's become of it."
The other, who knew something of literature in its various phases, answered cynically: "It's gone to two dollars and fifty cents."

There's BIG NEWS under this lamp shade!

Here's something you've never seen before—incandescent and fluorescent under one lamp shade . . . more than twice the amount of light than you've ever had before from a floor lamp!

This new lamp is something the lamp industry has been working on for years—a regular lamp bulb such as you are used to combined with a Circline fluorescent lamp.

What does this new development mean to you? Simply this: here is a new lamp which far surpasses anything ever before available to brighten and decorate a nighttime home. It is, without question, the finest piece of portable lighting equipment ever made.

We could go on for thousands of words trying to describe this new lamp—its design and style, the beauty of it, how it gives the kind of light eyes need . . . but you'll just have to see one—sit under one and experience its outstanding performance for yourself. There just are no words to describe it!

Do that—at stores where the new "Certified" Incandescent-Fluorescent Lamps are sold—sit under one! You'll go home with a lamp to set by every easy chair in your home.

LOOK FOR THIS TAG!

It identifies this new lamp which . . .
... gives better control of light quality
... distributes light correctly
... shields against glare
... and provides much more light and better lighting than lamps of similar appearance.

Tokyo, Oct. 23 (AP)—The Toyota Automobile Company unveiled its first postwar product today—a small four-passenger sedan with a 27 h.p. engine capable of doing 50 miles an hour. The price: 250,000 yen ($5,000 at the official rate of exchange). The company has produced only five of the bantam-sized machines, which are patterned along the lines of European cars. For the time being, only doctors may buy cars.

New England Fires Are Under Control; Drouth Still Holds

Portland, Me., Oct. 23 (AP)—New England's drouth-induced forest fires which have caused two deaths and more than $3,000,000 in property damage were under temporary control today as weary firefighters continued their efforts to check the blazes completely.

No end to the prolonged drouth was seen and the threat of the blazes getting out of control remained with the weather bureau's forecast of 25-mile-an-hour shifting winds in most areas.

There were some reports of looting and arson and police have been alerted in Maine and Massachusetts.

Maine led the casualty areas with more than 50 separate blazes, while the other New England states, New York and New Jersey also reported forest fires.

Maine's worst blaze at Goose Rocks Beach near the Kennedunkport artists' summer colony—was reported at least temporarily controlled after flames destroyed more than 200 buildings, leaving 600 persons either homeless or displaced.

Other serious blazes at Bar Harbor and in the Waterboro area also were curtailed at least temporarily.

Maine Fire Commissioner Raymond E. Kendall estimated the loss in Maine thus far at $2,500,000, while in Massachusetts damage was estimated by officials at $500,000. There was no estimate of damage caused by smaller fires in New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The largest of 25 blazes reported in New York was at a farm near where a seven-mile fire front sent smoke over the Hudson river valley to the edge of New York city.

The blaze was turned away from the 27,000-acre estate of Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman.

New Jersey, with 2,000,000 acres of forest, reported at least 20 fires and the state conservation commission canceled all outstanding out-of-doors fire permits.

The State Conservation Department said 25 of 264 fires that have flared in the dry timberlands since October 11 were burning. No rain was expected today by the weather bureau.

Dewey, acting as the Conservation Department proclaimed the hazard was the worst in the memory of forest fire control men, suspended hunting and fishing seasons with minor exceptions.

Fire at Ashokan
An estimated area of 40 acres of forest land burned Tuesday in Ashokan, beginning about one mile on the north side of the highway near Lake Koenig on the Tonsil mountain. Deputy Fire Marshal Benjamin DeGraff said today.

The fire broke out about 12:30 a. m. and burned until 6 p. m., it was reported. Another outbreak of the fire was noticed at 8 p. m., that evening but fire fighters checked the blaze in three quarters of an hour.

DeGraff said that he believed all of the property belonged to Raymond Pitcairn. No buildings were involved in the fire, it was reported.

About 15 to 18 men fought the fire on Tuesday by making trenches, backfires and with the use of fire tanks. The group was in charge of Aaron Van de Bogert of Wittenberg.

Party Will Climb

719-foot Mt. Rogers, highest peak in Virginia, sometime today.

The wreckage, found early Tuesday morning by Roy Greer, of Pulaski, meanwhile, had been given a thorough, though unofficial examination by a party headed by Colonel Wyatt Exum, of Galax, Va., an army-air forces reservist.

Colonel Exum's party reported finding clues which should prove ample for clarification of the crash, believed to have occurred more than a year ago.

"It is most difficult to determine whether there was one or two persons in the plane at the time of the crash," Colonel Exum's party reported, explaining that the remaining bones were scattered over a wide area and that a good many bones may have been almost completely destroyed by the fire at the time of the crash.

One skull, almost completely intact, was reported to have several large fillings in the teeth. Items of wearing apparel found on the crash scene included a pair of civilian-type black wing tip shoes and buttons ordinarily used on army flying jackets.

One booklet, not fully described, but which may solve the mystery of the plane's occupants, has been sent to authorities in Washington.

Samuel S. Brown Had One of Early Plumbing Firms

Member of Brown, Dressel Firm Served City as Alderman; on Health Board

SAMUEL S. BROWN

One of Kingston's most successful businessmen, Samuel S. Brown, who was formerly a partner in the Brown and Dressel heating, plumbing and metal work firm, died in Kingston Wednesday morning. Mr. Brown retired from the business about a year and a half ago.

Mr. Brown was born in Dumfries, Scotland, November 5, 1859, the son of Samuel Brown, who died in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1897, and Mary Shaw Brown, who died in Mansfield, England, in 1922.

After receiving his education in the public schools of his birthplace he remained in Scotland until 1888 when he was 29 years of age. He then removed to the United States and settled in Kingston.

Serving his apprenticeship in the plumbing trade in Scotland, Mr. Brown entered the employ of E. Loughran, a well-known plumber of Kingston for whom he worked 17 years. It was during this employment that Mr. Brown and George C. Dressel became acquainted and soon made plans for their business which proved to be successful in later years.

The two men started their firm in the Preston Building on Third street operating under the name of Brown and Dressel. After this they removed to larger headquarters on the present site of the Governor Clinton Hotel on Albany avenue. Later they moved to 37-39 St. James street. Fred M. Dressel now has his business situated at 73 Albany avenue.

Was Former Alderman
 Outside of his connections with the plumbing concern, Mr. Brown was actively engaged in the civic life of Kingston. He served one term as alderman and was a member of the Board of Health for six years. He also served as a delegate to the state convention of the Republican party.

Fraternally, Mr. Brown was identified with Kingston Lodge No. 60, Free and Accepted Masons, Mount Hope Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Roundout Commandery, Knights Templar, Albany Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

In addition he has served as a delegate to the Imperial Council of that order. He also was a member of the Kingston Club which he served as a trustee for six years. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of which he was formerly an elder. He also served 20 years as a member of the board of trustees of that church.

The late Mr. Brown was married twice. His first marriage was to Isabella Carson in Dumfries, Scotland. Mrs. Brown died in 1907. Later he married Angelina Crawford, daughter of Erasmus Crawford, a woodturner of Ulster county who served in the Civil War. He had four children through his first marriage.

Traffic Signs Are Due

For Art League Vicinity

Woodstock, Oct. 23—The State Traffic Commission has advised Kenneth L. Wilson, supervisor, Town of Woodstock, that reflector type curve signs, state speed signs and school signs will be put up in the near future on Route 212 in the area of the Art Students League to protect the students attending the school during the summer months.

This decision has come about as a result of the survey made by the commission at the instigation of Mr. Wilson following a request from the League's Board of Control.

New No-Parking Area

Designated in Village

Woodstock, Oct. 23—Another precaution of interest to motorists will be the no parking signs which will be put up at the corner of Mosher street at the highway and will cover a distance of 25 feet in front of Dean's Diner and 15 feet on the west side of Mosher street.

Because of present parking conditions in that area, it has been difficult for drivers to see oncoming traffic as they approach the highway from Mosher street. It is expected that the elimination of parking in this danger area will be welcome news to motorists.

Pleads With Horsemen

To Observe All Laws

Woodstock, Oct. 23—Following a special meeting of the board of directors of the Woodstock Riding Club, President Virgil Van Wagenen announced that the following letter was being sent to all club members:

"Dear Member: It has been brought to our attention by the town board and by a number of individuals in the village of Woodstock, that a few horsemen and women of this community are:

1. Riding their horses on private property, even after being requested by the owners to refrain from trespassing;

2. Riding on the sidewalks of the village and across the foot paths of homes;

3. Riding on the village green. Among the aims of the Woodstock Riding Club is the promotion of horsemanship and an interest by the community in horses, and too, we hope in the not too distant future to have a chain of horse paths. If the above misdeeds continue, the citizens will be perfectly justified in their refusal to cooperate in any of these projects with us, and their cooperation is needed.

Let us all remember that a few unsportsmanlike riders serve to give the club as a whole a bad reputation, thereby making it difficult to progress and expand as we hope to do. Let it be further understood that the club will not be responsible for any member who runs afoul of the law. Please try and consider all 33 of us when riding your horse.

Yours for better horsemanship,
Signed,
BOARD OF DIRECTORS,
Woodstock Riding Club,
Virgil Van Wagenen,
President.

First Pheasant Shot

Benjamin DeGraff, vice president of Woodstock Fish and Game Club and Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club, as well as town superintendent of highways, was the first hunter in the Town of Woodstock to have his pheasant. It was learned that Mr. DeGraff bagged his prize just 16 minutes after taking off.

Review of the News

Enjoyed by Firemen

The Woodstock Fire Company was host on Tuesday evening to the Ulster County Firemen's Association when officers and delegates arrived for the monthly meeting which was held in the Fire Hall, Woodstock.

The fire sirens blew shortly before meeting time and for a while it looked as though the hosts would be absent when the guest arrived but they made short work of the brush fire on Ohayo Mountain and were back in their places to receive the guests from the county.

Most of the time allotted to a short business meeting was devoted to discussion of the Essay Contest on Fire Prevention in which the young people in the county are taking part.

The firemen adjourned to the Town Hall following their meeting and enjoyed a moving picture titled Review of the News 1927 to 1947. President Harold Holmberg, Woodstock Fire Company, said the picture covered all major events during the past two decades from the Wall Street crash through the depression and war years and up to the present time. To quote President Holmberg, "it gave one a strange feeling to see and hear such persons as former President Roosevelt, Hitler, Mussolini and King George V, making speeches."

Willard Wilber, Warren Risely

and Elliott Ostrander were responsible for the excellent refreshments served to the 200 guests.

Woodstock officers including Harold Holmberg, president; Birge Simmons, vice president; Marvin Doremus, treasurer; William L. Elwyn, Jr., secretary; Chief Reginald Lapo, Assistant Chief George Haythorne and 40 members of the Woodstock company were present.

Alf Evers, Famous Writer,
Heads Local P.C.A.

Woodstock, Oct. 23 (P)—Alf Evers, internationally known author residing in Woodstock, was named chairman of the Woodstock branch of the Progressive Citizens of America when the group met Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip FitzPatrick. Dick Burlingame will remain in his office as chairman of the Ulster County Chapter.

In the future, the Woodstock chapter of this organization will interest itself in local problems on a non-partisan basis. In the group are members of both leading political parties who have joined together for the betterment of community and national welfare.

At Tuesday's meeting it was decided that a representative would be appointed to keep the members informed on local issues and public meetings in order that they might participate. It was also announced that a pamphlet would be prepared and mailed to all boxholders informing them of the names of Republican and Democratic candidates running for offices in the forthcoming election. The purpose of this action is to get the voters out regardless of their political affiliations. Further in this regard, a resolution was adopted which reads as follows: Whereas, it is an objective of the Progressive Citizens of America, as stated in their preamble, "to promote and cultivate the continuance and extension of Democracy through the full and free use of the franchise," therefore, be it resolved, that the Woodstock members of the P.C.A. who are enrolled as Republican or Democratic party members be urged to offer their services to their respective party leaders in helping to obtain as large a vote as possible in the coming town election; and, Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Woodstock chairman of the Republican and Democratic parties.

A committee will be named in the near future, the duties of which will be to bring before the public national issues bi-monthly, of interest to all. Everyone in the community will be invited to attend these meetings during which letters will be written to congressmen and senators. The first such meeting will be held at the home of Dick Burlingame on a date to be announced soon. The committee will appreciate having suggestions from anyone in the community on any subject considered to be of vital importance.

Mr. Burlingame, who attended the P.C.A. state conference last week, reported that the organization's membership has tripled since July which he considered "to be an indication that the American people are coming to it that the democratic processes are made to work."

Motorists Waste $54.01

Jamestown, N. Y., Oct. 23 (P)—Motorists wasted $54.01 here last month in parking meters. Collector Warren C. Whitney said 5,171 pennies and 23 dimes were inserted in meters in vain. A nickel is the proper coin.

Flying Object Is
Source of Talk in Lehigh Valley

Allentown, Pa., Oct. 23 (P)—A high flying object—described variously as a balloon and a star—drifted mysteriously over Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley and western New Jersey before disappearing into the dusk last night.

Pilot Herbert Lenhart gave the closest eyewitness report after a flight from the Allentown-Bethlehem airport in pursuit of the "balloon." Lenhart said he reached an altitude of 12,100 feet over Easton, Pa., and that the object of his chase was still 7,000 feet higher. Professor Ralph Van Arman of Lehigh University said the object appears through a high power telescope to be a balloon but was definitely not a weather balloon. Weather stations in the area said no weather or sound balloons had been sent aloft.

Residents of Wilkes-Barre, 60 miles from Allentown, reported about the same time that a shining object which looked like a star appeared in the sky over that city, fading from sight as dusk fell.

Absent Juror Sought

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 23 (P)—When only 11 jurors appeared to hear testimony in a scheduled trial before Circuit Judge DeWitt Crowe yesterday he ordered a bailiff to find the absent juror. The bailiff told Judge Crowe he had telephoned the 12th juror, Mrs. Marion Leimkuhler, and she told him: "I'm sorry but I can't come. I've got company coming today and I have to stay home to bake some chicken for them." Judge Crowe fined her $5 for contempt of court.

Too Much Fixing

Cheektowaga, N. Y., Oct. 23 (P)—Town board members are convinced that Walter Pietrzak wants "a lot of fixing." "I want my street fixed," Pietrzak wrote. "It is a lousy street. I want a sign on it, too. That street is really bad. Fix it because it needs fixing. You must fix it. Fix it. Please fix it. It needs it very bad."

Some words fool you:

STEER means

STEER means

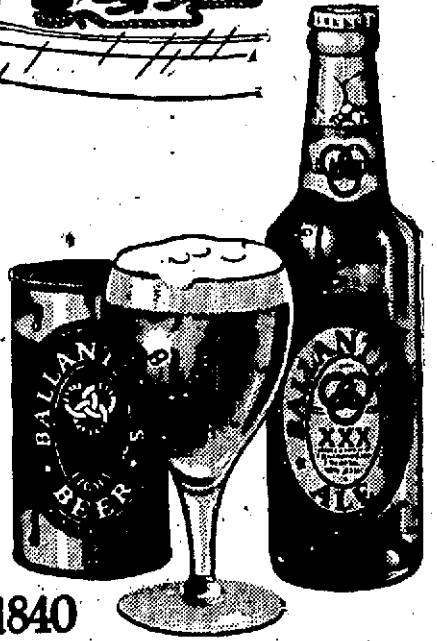

... but BALLANTINE

always means: PURITY

You drive a steer with a whip... you steer to "drive" a ship. It's plain to see, steer is one of those confusing words with more than one meaning. It can fool you.

But not Ballantine! Ballantine always means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR... the qualities symbolized by Peter Ballantine's famous 3-ring trade mark. Look for the 3 rings; call for Ballantine.

Proclamation

All residents, stores, factories and public buildings are urged by Mayor William F. Edelmuth to display the American Flag in honor of Navy Day, October 27. The mayor issued the following proclamation in observance of the day:

Whereas it is the custom on one day of each year for our citizens to join hands and the nation to render grateful tribute to our Mighty Navy, and give well deserved honor and recognition to the achievements of the men and women who compose its ranks; and

Whereas this year is an especially appropriate occasion to honor the veterans of World War II and to emphasize the importance to our nation of maintaining a strong peacetime Navy with a trained Reserve ready to man our fleet in the event of national emergency; and

Whereas it is fitting that our citizens be informed and aware of the current aims and activities of our Navy, victor in war and guardian of peace.

Therefore, I, William F. Edelmuth, Mayor of the City of Kingston, New York, hereby proclaim, Monday, October Twenty-Seven, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Seven, as Navy Day and call upon all citizens of Kingston to take part in observance of this day through the many channels open to them.

Herein unto I have set my hand this Twenty-Third Day of October, 1947.

WILLIAM F. EDELMUTH
Mayor, City of Kingston, New York

So They Were Wed
Los Angeles, Oct. 23 (AP)—And so the sweethearts for 50 years were finally married, in sign language. They are William Clark McClure, 84, of Lovelock, Nev., and Alberta Littlejohn, 81, of Oakland, Calif., both deaf mutes who were a courtin' a half century ago in San Francisco and Santa Rosa, Calif., but separated when he went to Nevada. They met again three years ago at a deaf mutes' club in San Francisco. Neither had ever married. They resumed correspondence, finally came here, and were married last night at the home of McClure's niece, Mrs. Pearl Buford.

Committee Will Meet
The local Citizens Food Committee headed by Captain Andrew Hickey, U. S. Navy retired, will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in the city court room, city hall. The committee, composed of about 30 prominent local residents, was named this week by Mayor William F. Edelmuth.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
New York (AP)—Don De Luce, back from a long look behind the iron curtain, finds American prestige still is high in European countries within the Soviet sphere. "Two years aren't enough for a man to learn to shut his mind completely," said De Luce, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent.

"In any sort of open competition for the friendship of these people, the odds would be five-to-one in our favor—except in Yugoslavia." De Luce returned this week from a four-month tour through Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Greece—countries that have been part of his news beat since 1939. He talked to hundreds of people in all classes of life, and reached this conclusion:

"We hold the top cards, and if we play them properly there is no reason for alarm or despondency. We still represent in the minds of most people throughout the world the place where human freedom has the best chance to endure."

"The American citizen acts, thinks and moves about more freely than the citizen of any other country wherever he goes." Just as the American civilian soldier was our best ambassador during the war, De Luce believes now that our best diplomat in these countries is the peacetime American visitor. Therefore he thinks it important that they be kept open to American travel.

"That gives the people of those lands a chance to see that we aren't Wall Street devils who ride over starving children in our limousines—as their controlled press would have them believe," he said.

Wherever he traveled he found among the people a great interest in American affairs and an admiration for her production techniques. One Russian engineer joked:

"We'd like to come over and study how you do it."

De Luce said the Soviet campaign to convince the satellite people within her sphere that the United States was a power-hungry nation of warmongers was counterbalanced by their realization it was Russia herself who had enlarged her borders at the expense of European neighbors.

"We have more blood ties with these countries than the Soviet Union," he pointed out. "There are more Yugoslavs in San Pedro, Calif., than there are in Moscow."

De Luce's views are those of a trained, impartial observer, skilled in political reporting.

He is a six-foot-three-inch sandy-haired writer known among his fellow correspondents for daring war exploits and his insistence on getting his facts first hand. He won a Pulitzer prize in 1944 for his feat of crossing the Adriatic the year before and getting the first eye-witness stories on Yugoslavia's Partisan fighters.

"I asked him what struck him most about America on his return."

"The fact that nine-tenths of our people seem to live as well or better than the top ten per cent of Europeans," he said.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, Oct. 22—A program based on the topic of "Education" was conducted at the regular meeting of the Plattekill Grange in the Grange Hall recently. Speakers were: Principal Robert Robinson, of the Wallkill Central School; Mrs. Myron Foster, principal of the Plattekill school; Mrs. Leander Minard, Mrs. Bernard Kopaski and Frank Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Wager entertained 25 guests from Monticello and Oliveville at their home recently.

School was reopened Tuesday after being closed Monday when the teachers, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. W. Thompson and Miss Kniffen, attended the meeting of the Ulster Educators at Highland.

The Plattekill Grange responded to the alarm sent in from Ardona Friday, when the barn and contents, including farm machinery and apples crated for market, were destroyed by fire.

Mary Deiner was installed as president of the Student Council of the Wallkill Central School, at a recent meeting and Charles Thompson, as secretary. Impressive ceremonies marked the installation, during the student assembly in the auditorium of the school.

Local leaders of various projects of the Plattekill Home Bureau unit have been attending training school in the Legion Hall in New Paltz during the past weeks. Mrs. George Sisti is chairman of the local unit, Mrs. Leander Minard, vice-chairman; Mrs. Beulah Thompson is secretary; and Mrs. James Leitch, treasurer.

Mrs. Bernard Kopaski attended the regular meeting of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill at the home of Mrs. Burton Ward in Modena.

Mary Deiner, Charles Thompson and Mary Jane Stoneberg, local students of the Wallkill Central School, are on the high honor roll for the first marking period. Those whose names appear on the honor roll from Plattekill are Gilmore Harris, Maureen Fleming, Ronald Leitch, Shirley Feldt, Adrienne Howard and Ralph Jenkins.

MEET YOUR MAYOR!

The fourth term candidate for Mayor promised:

"Means will be sought for eliminating the nuisance caused by the smoke and stench arising from the Summer Street dump. This nuisance CAN and WILL be ended."

That was the PROMISE. What was the PERFORMANCE?

The Summer Street dump is still doing business at the same old stand.

The Kingston Fire Department has been called SEVENTEEN times in the past SIX months to extinguish fires at this dump.

This is only one of the many promises made to the people of Kingston by the Democrat candidate for Mayor.

Watch this space tomorrow night for another PROMISE measured against PERFORMANCE.

Yams Are Good
Vitamin Source

One of the plentiful fall vegetables now is the Louisiana yam sweet potato. These contain many times as much vitamin A as white potatoes, and their natural sugars keep them moist, so you need less butter or margarine on them.

Mashed Yams
(Serves 4)

Wash 4 yam sweet potatoes. Cover with boiling salted water; cook covered about 30 minutes or until yams are tender. Drain, peel and mash. Add 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/3 cup hot milk; beat until well blended and light.

Baked Raisin Stuffed Yams
(Serves 4)

Four yam sweet potatoes, 1/3 cup seedless raisins, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg.

Bake yams in jackets in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 50 minutes. When done, cut off a lengthwise slice and scoop out pulp, being careful not to break shells. Mash pulp; add raisins, salt, sugar, butter or margarine and nutmeg. Mix well and pile lightly into potato shells. Brown in hot oven (425 degrees F.). Serve hot.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Fruit bowl, shredded wheat with apricot jam topping, toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Vegetable plate (boiled yam sweet potatoes, broccoli with cheese sauce, grilled tomatoes), bread, butter or fortified margarine, tea, milk.

DINNER: Baked fish (haddock, cod, halibut), oven-baked potatoes, bread, butter or fortified margarine, ginger pears, coffee, milk.

BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Oct. 22.—Dr. Luman J. Shafer will be the guest speaker at the "Denominational Night" program in conjunction with the 151st anniversary of the Bloomington church Sunday evening.

Dr. Shafer, a graduate of Rutgers University in 1909, and from the New Brunswick Theological Seminary in 1912, went to Japan as a missionary of the Board of Foreign Missions, Reformed Church in America, where he remained until 1935 except for furloughs. He returned to this country in 1935 to assume the duties of secretary of the board.

Dr. Shafer, with three others, returned to Japan in 1945 as representative of the Protestant Churches of North America on a good-will mission. He also made a short visit to Korea.

This deputation, the first civilians to enter Japan after the war, had a remarkable experience and brought back the first intimate report on the situation inside Japan.

Dr. Shafer's most recent trip has been to China on a deputation of the board to the Amoy Mission where he visited the stations, conferred with missionaries from this country and made a study of the many problems growing out of the war's disruption of the work. He also attended conferences in Nanking and Shanghai.

On his return to America, Dr. Shafer paved the way for a new Christian university which is to be established under joint auspices of the Foreign Missions conference of North America and the Federal Council of Churches.

Included in Sunday's service will be the histories of the Missionary Society, Ladies' Aid Society and the I.H.M. Bible class by Mrs. Walter Hildebrandt, Mrs. Joseph Yunkers and Mrs. C. B. Ennist.

Special music by the young people's choir and a solo also will feature the program.

The public is invited.

Forever Amber Is Denounced by Cardinal

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—The film, "Forever Amber," was condemned by the Legion of Decency today as "a glorification of immorality and licentiousness" and Catholics were told by Francis Cardinal Spellman they could not see it with a "safe conscience."

The cardinal, in a letter to all pastors in the New York archdiocese, to be read at all Masses Sunday, called attention to the action of the Legion in placing the much-ballyhooed film in its "condemned" classification and said: "Accordingly, I advise that Catholics may not see this production with a safe conscience."

It was the second time that the cardinal had singled out a specific film for condemnation. In November, 1941, he denounced the Greta Garbo picture, "Two-Faced Woman."

Officials of 20th Century Fox Co., producers of the film, said they had no immediate comment.

The Rev. Patrick J. Masterson, acting executive secretary of the Legion, said that the reviewers of the organization are drawn from a panel of 50 women, all members of the motion picture department of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae.

The history of China extends back to 2205 B.C.

Clare Luce Asks Department Think Over Its Decision

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—Clare Boothe Luce says that the State Department should reconsider its decision not to release the report on China by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer.

"Continued suppression of this document with its concealment of vital and pertinent facts, is bound to create confusion and uncertainty in the public mind," the former congresswoman said last night in a statement accepting the presidency of the American China Policy Association.

She also proposed "prompt release of the full text of all agreements on understandings concerning China made by us with any third power."

Mrs. Luce urged appointment of new officials to conduct U. S. foreign policy in the Pacific who will display "no trace of defeatism and no trace of appeasement of the Soviet Union or Communism."

Acres Is Lower

Although U. S. farm production increased 25 per cent between 1939 and 1944, farm acreage increased only six per cent.

New Street Flusher Received in City

Four New Traffic Signals to Be Installed

A new, 1,500-gallon Etnyre street flusher with the latest in attachments is now at the barn of the public works department, Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of the department, announced today.

The unit mounted on a five-ton Mack chassis, Model EU, arrived this week from Oregon, Ill., the superintendent said. It is equipped to pump 600 gallons of water a minute, has four nozzles and has attachments for sewer cleaning and tree spraying.

The superintendent also announced today that four new traffic signals have been installed on the corner of Clinton avenue and Henry street and will be in operation next week. They were authorized through action of the Common Council last February and replace stop signs at the intersection.

Since this time yesterday, you've traveled 1,580,765 miles, moving along with the earth on its trip around the sun.

Stravinsky Turns His Firebird Into Fox Trot

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—Igor Stravinsky, idol of the long-hair music set, has adopted the torch song technique and will soon vie with Bo-Bop and "Bloop-Bleep" for the juke box trade.

In his first step in this direction, the 65-year-old Russian-born composer-conductor has rearranged part of his famous "Firebird" ballet into a slow fox trot called "Summer Moon," Lou Levy, president of the Leeds Music Corporation, said today.

Stravinsky's conversion began almost two years ago in conversations with the music publisher. The early conversations dealt with Stravinsky's desire to increase his royalties from "Firebird," to move into a more lucrative category in the standings prepared by the American Society of Composers and Publishers, and Levy's wish that Stravinsky might write march music for high school bands.

"After all," Levy said, "as I said to Mr. Stravinsky, 'do you want to be like Tchaikovsky and Chopin and wait for everyone to pick your bones after you're dead? Do it yourself while you're still able to enjoy the money.'"

Levy said Stravinsky's switch in musical technique resulted from his naturalization as an American citizen two years ago. He said that in 1945 Stravinsky explained to him that the copyright laws were unfair to Russian immigrants in that since Russia does not recognize music copyrights of other nations, other countries frequently overlook royalty payments to Russian composers.

Levy said he told Stravinsky to write another arrangement of the "Firebird" with "one or two changes, maybe," then after Stravinsky became an American citizen, the new "Firebird" could be copyrighted and recorded.

Stravinsky did just that.

Rate Increase Approved

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 23 (AP)—The Public Service Commission approved today a 10 per cent intrastate freight rate increase to railroad operating in New York, effective on one day's notice. The commission said the intrastate increase corresponded to "an interim" 10 per cent jump approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for interstate traffic, effective October 13. The P.S.C. spokesman said the carriers now were authorized to file supplemental tariff schedules to make the increase effective in New York.

Chief Will Speak

Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss will talk over Radio Station WKNY at 7:30 p. m. today on the police pay-benefit referendum in the November election. It was inadvertently announced in an advertisement Wednesday that the talk was for that night.

Ferris Is Appointed Express Superintendent

Local Railway Express Manager Ralph Burke, has announced the appointment of Ralph B. Ferris as superintendent of the Eastern New York Division, with headquarters at Albany of which Kingston is a part. Mr. Ferris is a transportation background of 36 years, having served in many capacities throughout the New England states, more recently having acted as chief clerk to General Manager Ralph Cox at Boston, Mass.

Mr. Ferris is a pioneer in the development of air express having entered into that endeavor when it was launched some 20 years ago and will have complete control of the agency's air and rail operations in the Hudson, Harlem, Mohawk and Champlain valleys succeeding H. H. Kallach, who has been promoted to a position with the express agency in New York.

Killed While Begging

Denver, Oct. 23 (AP)—Officials at City Park Zoo thought Solo, Shorty and Blacky, bear cubs, deserved more than a life of begging peanuts from amused crowds. So when the trio reached their first birthday, they arranged with the Colorado Game and Fish Commission to release them in the mountains near famed Mt. Evans. Today commission officials announced sadly Solo, Shorty and Blacky were dead, killed by proud hunters as the bears sat up begging for peanuts.

Hollywood, Oct. 23 (AP)—Maitre D' Hotel Bob Ryan furnished the

Robert Williams Recalls Experiences For Musical Society

Robert Williams, who was organist and choir master at St. John's Church for 22 years and who is director of the Mendelssohn Club here and supervisor of music in the Newburgh schools, spoke at Musical Society meeting Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Amos Newcombe, Manor Lake. Mr. Williams spoke of his associations with great organists and especially with T. Tertius Noble of whom he was a pupil.

Mr. Williams was one of the first organ students to study with Dr. Noble when he came to America from York Minster, England, to assume his post as organist and director of music in St. Thomas Cathedral, New York.

From his long association with him, Mr. Williams described his ability as having an absolutely unerring technique, a clear, astounding pedal technique and astounding memory. He said that Dr. Noble's colorful registrations might be likened to the color of Rimsky-Korsakoff's music. Every thing he played was "always in good taste," a favorite phrase of Dr. Noble.

As an instructor with the choir boys, Mr. Williams said Dr. Noble considered American choir boys as "far superior with much more life" than English boys. He also spoke of his compositions, the famous choir anthem, "Souls of the Righteous," and one choral prelude which was dedicated to Mr. Williams. Dr. Noble has now retired.

While serving in the navy during the first World War, Mr. Williams had the opportunity to visit many of the cathedrals in England and become acquainted with the organists. At Thanksgiving time he was allowed to play the hymns during a mass service for all servicemen at Winchester Cathedral. He also spoke of the organs at Salisbury Cathedral and St. Paul's, London, where a special effect is created by a set of reeds placed high in the dome.

Speaking of organists in this country, Mr. Williams said that few people in this vicinity realize that at West Point "we have one of the top ranking organists in the country, Frederick Mayer."

Mr. Williams closed his talk with humorous anecdotes about some of the world famous musicians whom he had met such as Caruso, Paderewski and Toscanini.

Mrs. Henry Dunbar, president, conducted a short business meeting prior to the talk. Mr. Williams was introduced by Mrs. Henry Milong, Jr.

Afterward refreshments were served with Mrs. John MacKinnon, Mrs. Edward Miller, Jr., and Miss Mildred Simmons as hostesses. Mrs. Dunbar assisted by pouring.

The next meeting, November 12, will be at the home of the Misses Ethel and Jane Mauterstock.

Local Delegates At Zionist Meeting

New York, Oct. 22 (Special)—Mrs. Rose Mandel of 85 West Chestnut street and Mrs. Sam Zimet of 253 Washington avenue both of Kingston, will represent the Kingston chapter of Hadassah the women's Zionist organization, when the 33rd annual convention of the body opens in Atlantic City on Friday for a four-day session. They are among 2,500 delegates named to represent the 900 chapters of Hadassah, located in 47 states.

Highlighting the proceedings will be addresses by world-famous Zionist leaders who have taken an active part in planning for and shaping the destiny of a Jewish national home. Among them will be Dr. Chaim Weizman of Jerusalem, who has been representing Zionist interests before the United Nations.

Attractive B'nai B'rith Ring Card Scheduled for Tonight

Six Canadian Fighters, Dungy, Decker Top Bill

Although many of the boxing fans at B'nai B'rith card tonight in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium will be looking to the six Canadian ring stars to furnish a lot of the action, friends of George "Babyface" Decker are expected to be present to see their little fistie idol put on a fast exhibition of leather slinging.

Commenting on tonight's bill, Dr. Saul Goldfarb, chairman of the B'nai B'rith boxing committee, remarked, "We've into the luck with our last two cards, especially the last, and look for the Canadians and their opponents to put us back in the category as one of the clubs offering the best amateur scraps in the state."

"I think our fans realize we've always tried our best to give them first-rate cards. But, boxers are unpredictable, like race horses and the weather. Unlike a big stage show, boxing cards are not rehearsed; nobody knows what is going to happen. Sponsors feel just as badly about the whole thing as the fans when things go wrong."

Decker Is Popular

George Decker is one of the most popular little scrappers ever to step into the squared circle at the auditorium. He's a former resident of this city, now residing in Schenectady. B'nai B'rith boxing patrons remember his savage bouts with Poughkeepsie's Carmine Virgilio, and it is anticipated that they will be out strong to cheer for him tonight.

Outstanding Canadian boxers scheduled to appear with the team of six here are Ronnie Lacelle, 129 pounds, who won the Dominion championship last year, and Clayton Kenny, 126, Golden Gloves title winner.

The complete card:

Russ Dungy, Gary, Ind., Chicago Golden Gloves champion now residing in Utica vs. Clayton Kenny, Golden Gloves from Quebec.

George "Babyface" Decker, Schenectady vs. Ronnie Lacelle, last year's Dominion champion, winner of 22 out of 27 bouts.

Harold Morton, hard-punching

Albany lightweight vs. Lloyd Kenney, one of Ottawa's outstanding ringmen.

Eddie Cheeks, Schenectady welterweight, who defeated "Tiger" Davis on the last card vs. Johnny Page, Quebec Golden Gloves.

Three Rounders

Joe Sandulo, Montreal's Golden Gloves novice champion flyweight vs. George Jackson, Schenectady knockout puncher.

Bobby St. Jacques, Ottawa ring star vs. Sam Galbo, Utica flash.

Jackie Harris, Schenectady middleweight vs. an opponent to be picked in place of Dave Brandon, Kingston, who has been forbidden to box by Dr. Maurice Silk, club physician, because of an injured nose.

Starting time of the card is 9 o'clock.

All-America Loop Seeks All-Time Gridiron Records

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—One game past the halfway mark on its 56-game schedule, the All-America Football Conference today set its sights on a hatful of new all-time pro records.

A survey of statistics for 29 games shows the circuit stands a good chance of surpassing more than a few of the existing marks, compared with last year's major league record of 3.56.

Seventy-eight touchdowns have come through the air, indicating that last year's all-pro mark of 133 is within easy reach. Another 179 have been made by running in contrast to the league record of 296 for 1946.

The first six scorers all have a good chance of topping Lou Groza's A.A.F.C. high of 24—all by placekicks—for the 1946 inaugural season. Chief Muttyn of Buffalo has 49, Spec Sanders of New York 48, Groza 47, Marton Motley of Cleveland 42, Ray Ramsey of Chicago 42 and Ben Agajanian of Los Angeles 40.

Boxes Tonight

GEORGIE DECKER

The former Kingstonian who now makes his home in Schenectady, returns to the boxing limelight in Kingston tonight when he is slated to box Ronnie Lacelle, 118-pounder of Canada, in one of the B'nai B'rith bouts. Decker is well known to local ring fans for his tremendous showings against Carmine Virgilio on former cards. (Freeman Photo.)

Ring Return Delayed

London, Oct. 23 (AP)—European Heavyweight Champion Bruce Woodcock's return to the ring, scheduled for November 17, probably will be postponed until December 9 because of an eye injury, Promoter Jack Solomons said today. Bruce has been idle since losing to the American, Joe Bakshi, on April 15.

Eddie Dolan, Arden McConnell, Rip Forman, Walt Slovenski and Lee Buchsbaum were put through the paces at yesterday's practice session.

Coach Changes Attack

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 23 (AP)—Holy Cross Coach John (Ox) Da Grosa not only has made personnel changes in the Holy Cross football lineup but has shifted his attack from the "T" back to the single wing and may use both formations Saturday against Syracuse. The team will leave tonight by train for Syracuse, N. Y.

Cubs Unload Vets

The Chicago Cubs have been weeding out the oldsters. Third baseman Stan Hack is gone and so are veteran pitchers Claude Passeau and Bill Lee. Billy Jurges, the utility infielder who played shortstop regularly for a stretch in September, has been released as a player but signed as a coach.

With Bill Meyer, a great hand with young players, taking over at Pittsburgh, there will be more pink slips handed out by General Manager Roy Haney, Jim Bagby, the former Boston Red Sox and Cleveland hurler, already has been sent to Indianapolis by the Pirates and Rip Sewell has been released and becomes a pitching coach.

Hank Greenberg, is no longer a Pirate. Free to shop for a connection, Hank is considering an operation for removal of bone chips from his elbow. The Pirates also sent Roger Wolfe, the knuckle ball expert, to Sacramento in payment for a young catcher.

JACK KEATING

Jack Keating, who Kingston High School football supporters think is the fastest runner in the DUSO League this year, may get his chance to show his wares when the Maroon and White gridgers play in Newburgh Saturday afternoon. This point was intimated Wednesday night by Coach Bill Burke when he spoke at the Kingston Athletic Association meeting. To date, Kingston has been lacking a breakaway runner and there are those who think Keating may fill the bill. (Freeman Photo.)

More Veteran Major League Stars Due for Scrap Heap

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—Old age has crept up on so many major league clubs that baseball is getting set for its most thorough housecleaning job in years. Much of the overage talent is slated for the scrap heap before the 16 clubs start spring training March 1.

"The youth movement," definitely is in full swing in Brooklyn, Cincinnati and Philadelphia. In fact, the Chicago White Sox, last of the "stand pat" crowd also are undergoing changes that will shake out most of the deadwood.

Since the end of the season, the White Sox have released Lefty Thornton, Lee, the cunning southpaw who used to be one of the best in the American League. He still can do his stuff but each year he needs more rest between starts. Likewise the Sox have cut loose Red Ruffing, who failed to show many traces of his old New York Yankee form in a few starts for Chicago.

Ruffing is reported headed for a scouting or farm system job in the Yankee organization.

Maroon Grid Coach Heard At Monthly K.A.A. Meeting

May Be K. H. S. Answer

The DUSO League football situation being what it is, experts, coaches and alumni alike are keeping their fingers crossed for Middletown trekking to Port Jervis for a nocturnal contest Friday, and Kingston High travelling to Newburgh for a daylight game on Saturday.

Kingston is a slight favorite over the Goldbacks, who held Middletown to a scoreless deadlock, while Kingston and Port Jervis were staging the same act at municipal stadium.

Port Over Middles

Port Jervis, a hapless, shoddy outfit for the past few years, has improved to the point where it is a clear-cut favorite over the Middles for the first time since 1939. All of which is just so much folderol to Maroon fans who recall what happened to Bill Burke's "highly favored" Kingston eleven against the Red and Black.

The impression exists that if either Port Jervis or Kingston topples Saturday, the other will win the 1947 pennant. The men of Burke Hill were prohibitive favorites to repeat last year's stunning victory when the current season started. But the 1947 Maroons will be maintaining an inviolate goal line have only been able to score one touchdown, that on a Titus-Gheer pass against Middletown.

Port Jervis was a "dark horse" entry insofar as sports writers and observers were concerned and their record justifies such pre-season rating. Al Chase's magic touch is beginning to assert itself and any team that has a pair of backs like Ray Nicolette and Dale Drinko running loose can be tough on any day, at any park, against any opponent.

Hard to Predict

The Port-Middletown fracas is one of those "traditionals" that are hard to predict. Coach Ed Rodiek, of Middletown, says he could have beaten Kingston if first string end Gordy Hallenbeck had played the entire game against the Maroon. This time he will have a sound Hallenbeck, Wally Gross, Joe Bertholf and Nick Pizzia, all on the injured list, ready for action against the Tri-Staters. In spite of the physical improvement of the Middletown squad, the nod goes to Port Jervis.

Coach Burke needs more running and a sound, sharpshooting Dee Titus to insure a Kingston victory over the surgically improved Academicians. Titus was not up to par physically against the Porters and this was evident in the timing of his passes. Maybe Mike Rienzo can come up with a display of broken field running. Jack Keating, the scat back, might be shaken loose for one long jaunt. All this, of course, is pure speculation.

If Newburgh is able to cope with Titus' passes and the Maroon's impotent running attack, it is a better than even bet that the game will wind up in another of those dreary scoreless deadlocks. The Kingston life is rugged. It can be pushed around near midfield but inside that 20-yard stripe it is still the best forward wall in the circuit.

The iron man act appears inevitable for both DUSO arenas. Port made only one substitution against Kingston, for punting purposes, while the locals made only two. Newburgh and Middletown probably will sink or swim with their starters.

Injuries Plague Coach

Middlebury, Vt., Oct. 23 (AP)—Coach Duke Nelson has been forced to forego contact work for his Middlebury College football squad because of injuries. Halfback Bonny Buerba of South Norwalk, Conn., and center Chuck Piksta of Windsor, Vt., have joined tackle Johnny Hamilton of Mount Vernon, N. Y., on the hospital list. Nelson hopes to be able to use back Mike Tanes of Taunton, Mass., against St. Lawrence here Saturday.

Babe Ruth Will Receive National Jewish Award

Philadelphia, Oct. 23 (AP)—Babe Ruth has been chosen to receive the 1947 Brith Shalom National Sports Award "in recognition of his outstanding contribution to American youth through his exemplary sportsmanship, fair play and notable achievements in the field of sports."

Brith Shalom, a national Jewish fraternal order, said the award will be presented to the former King of Swat Monday.

The award previously was given to Capt. Tom Hamilton, Navy football coach, and Lawson Robertson, former University of Pennsylvania track coach.

Maroon Grid Coach Heard At Monthly K.A.A. Meeting

May Be K. H. S. Answer

Modern football is getting so complicated in offense that it imposes a tremendous strain on the average high school quarterback, Kingston High School football coach, Willard Burke, said in a speech before the monthly meeting of the Kingston Athletic Association last night at the Elks Club.

The K.H.S. gridiron mentor made this observation near the end of an interesting address in which he traced the development of football from its early prehistoric mob brawls to the highly developed, deceptive "T" football of today.

Tough for Coaches

Burke's remarks corroborated a statement made a few days ago by Andy Kerr, the old Scot, former Colgate coach, who said the game was getting so complicated that high school coaches were unable to cope with it.

The new substitution rule which permits substitutions to be made on any dead ball within the 30 seconds allotted between plays is a great boon to the high school quarterback, Burke said. It enables the mentors to help from the sidelines by frequent substitutions, although he did not indicate whether Kingston adheres to this system.

"Take the average quarterback," he said. "He must remember the down, the yardage, his signals, the location of the ball and is confronted with varying defenses thrown up by the opposition. That's too much for a kid to cope with."

Stressing the razzle-dazzle types of shifting defenses that have been created in the past few years, especially since the "T" came in popular use, Burke said he is convinced as are other football men that the rules makers will have to give some breaks to the offense.

After his speech in which he explained the early "T" formations, the single and double wing back formations, Notre Dame "Box" forward pass development and other phases of football in a crisp, interesting manner, the K.H.S. coach answered questions posed by members of the K.A.A.

Most interesting of the replies were these:

1. The "T" is the greatest weapon in football since its basis is speed and deception, the trademarks of modern football.
2. Night football does not seriously affect the performance of players, but games scheduled for Friday nights do deprive the squad of a day's practice. He deplored the lack of spring training.
3. The Kingston High School Squad has not come up to its full potentialities, although it was rated 50 per cent better than the 1946 championship eleven.
4. Although the Maroon has scored only one touchdown in three games, it has not been scored on since the Port Jervis game last season. The team is due to break out.
5. Kingston has defensive power but lacks speedy backs and thus will have to rely on power plays and Dee Titus' pitching arm. Jack Keating, who is likely to see considerable action against Newburgh on Saturday may prove the breakaway runner Kingston has lacked to date.
6. Running on a recovered fumble is one of the most spectacular plays in football and it should be legalized again.
7. The DUSO race is still a wide open affair but Kingston has an excellent chance of defending its title.

Movies Shown

Following Mr. Burke's speech, the K.A.A. members saw motion pictures of outstanding football games of the past few years.

The report of the membership committee indicated that the K.A.A. membership at present is 500, with a goal of 1,000 set for January 1.

Newburgh confidence and enthusiasm for the impending DUSO football struggle between Kingston and NEA on Saturday is so great that the Ponderous Prevaricator, Major Amos B. Hoople, boldly predicts that the Goldbacks will romp over the Maroon, 7 to 0. . . It all came about because of NEA's stunning scoreless deadlock with Middletown. . . Although Hill City sports page readers know that the Major often makes Baron Von Munchausen look like a piker, they believe him this time and, if the NEA catches on fire with the same spirit, it could be a mighty rough afternoon for K.H.S. . . The Major goes a step further and prophesies a 12-7 Port Jervis victory over Middletown and says the Newburgh Jayvees will run over Kingston Jayvees, 12-0. . .

Hunting luck not so hot yet. . . The weather is against it. . . The Catskill and Hudson river area is a thing of scenic beauty these days. . . The unreasonably warm weather has done a terrific job of blending autumn colors into a panorama of breath taking splendor. . . Don't sell Ulster county short when you think of beauty spots in New York state, or even in the U.S. . . Nice to see Dave Brooks setting his sights for the city pocket billiard crown now held by Clifton Quick. Dave was the first of Nick Kaschik's proteges. . . Harold Quick was the second. . . Clifton, the bowler-kegler of the Quicks, should be tougher than ever this season, now that he has Thursday nights for practice. . . We hope Harold reconsiders his decision to retire from the tournament scene. . . He should be reminded that a fellow named Babe Ruth once batted .118 in a World Series but did alright in later years.

We hope that every sports lover will vote for State Amendment No. 6 which will permit expansion of skiing facilities on Belleayre Mountain in the Catskills and Gore Mountain in the southern Adirondacks. . . The amendment is necessary because both Belleayre and Gore mountains are largely owned by the State and governed by a constitutional provision forbidding the cutting of trees. . . SMOOTH, FOUR-STEP APPROACH MOST IMPORTANT PHASE OF GOOD BOWLING

Third of a series written for NEA Service.

By CATHERINE FELLMETH Women's World Champion

Footwork is the most important phase of bowling, but don't let it scare you. It is nothing more than rhythm. If you have rhythm on the dance floor, you can easily master bowling footwork.

Take your starting position on the approach at least 12 feet behind the foul line. Experiment with a four-step approach. If four steps carry you too close to the foul line, move back.

If your four steps do not take you close enough to the foul line, lengthen your steps. Longer strides give you more momentum. In the four-step approach, your first step, a short one, is taken on the right foot.

Push the ball forward at the same time in an easy, graceful motion.

As you take the second step, on your left foot, the ball is swinging in the backward arc, just passing your right knee. The ball reaches the peak of its backswing as you take the third step on your right foot. As the ball again begins its forward swing, shift the pressure to your right foot. The ball comes forward as you take the fourth step on your left foot. Slide forward on the left foot as the ball is released.

Forget everything else until you have developed a smooth, well-timed, four-step approach.

Bowling

Bert Burr, the Hofbrau dynamiter, was well on his way to a 700 series in the Central Rec League Tuesday night, when he hammered out games of 226 and 255 for a hefty 581 total. Came the third game, a slump to 183, but still enough for a rousing 664 series for a new record in the league.

High scores flourished in the intermediate circuit. The Hofbrau keggers put together games of 911, 998 and 1031 for a 2940 series, also a new record. Pete Ferraro posted 208-559; Joe Nagy 207; Jimmy Secretto 201-173-231-629.

Elsewhere in the loop, C. Beatty had 212; Jack Martin 232-563; Larry Petersen Sr., 202; Jackie Altamori 206; C. Davis, Sr., 248-598; "Stooge" Robinson 214-601; Herm Seelbach 203; A. Thiel 202; Bartroff 217; "Pop" Myers 212; Stan Winne 229.

Two Fires Engage Woodstockers, One Is at Old Mill

An alarm for a forest fire was sent in for Woodstock firemen early this afternoon while all apparatus of the department there was engaged in checking a blaze which damaged a log dam on the century-old Shults sawmill in Wittenberg.

The second call was for a fire which originated near the property of Cornelius V. V. Sewell in the Byrdcliffe sector and was still in progress at The Freeman press time.

Local fire headquarters was notified under mutual-aid regulations that all apparatus of the Woodstock department was on duty, as soon as the second call came in shortly after 1 p. m.

The blaze at Wittenberg, discovered by a mill employee, was checked to some extent by a bucket brigade before the firemen arrived.

The workman had notified Stone's store in the hamlet and the alarm was relayed from there. The blaze apparently started from sparks from a burning pile of sawdust. It is believed to have originated in a pile of dry leaves near the dam, where the water was low.

All available men, meanwhile, were called out in the Woodstock area to battle the forest fire which threatened the Sewell home and was spreading up the mountain as the Woodstock fire equipment arrived on the scene.

Decision Delayed On Eliminating Poultryless Days

(By The Associated Press) Poultry was off the menu today in homes and restaurants which have joined in the government's emergency food conservation program as the Citizens Food Committee delayed a decision on eliminating poultryless Thursdays.

The committee also was confronted with another major problem in its campaign to save grain as A.F.L. distillery workers made a new demand to consider postponement of the proposed 60-day shutdown of the distilling industry.

Signor Case Will Go to Grand Jury

The case of Kenneth Signor, 36, of Cottekill, charged with criminal negligence in the traffic death October 10, of Charles V. Garrity, 75, of Shandaken, will be presented to the grand jury this week, District Attorney Louis Bruhn announced today.

Garrity, who was walking along the road, died after being struck by the car Signor was driving.

A preliminary charge of driving while intoxicated was withdrawn against Signor after Garrity died of his injuries in Kingston Hospital. The charge was changed to criminal negligence.

The jury will examine evidence and report next week, Bruhn said.

Court Gives Consent For Accord Hall Sale

Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth has signed an order of consent for the sale of Odd Fellows Hall, owned by Accord Lodge, No. 160, I.O.O.F., of Accord, to the Accord Fire Department. An application was made to the court at special term for leave to dispose of the property. Lloyd R. LeFever appeared for the petitioners. Application for leave to sell was made by DeWitt Barley, Russell Miller and Edgar Van Vleet, trustees of the lodge, who informed the court that an offer had been made by the fire company to purchase the property for $3,500.

Rabbit Causes Accident

While answering a call yesterday one of the state troopers from the Lake Katrine barracks had a narrow escape from serious injury when a rabbit ran across the road. In applying the brakes to avoid injury to the rabbit, the car skidded on the gravel pavement on Lake avenue extension about a half mile from Cottekill and overturned. The trooper escaped injury, as did the rabbit, but the car was considerably damaged.

It's Up to Voters

won't be any abuse of that power," Dewey added. The extra compensation now provided by flat appropriations in lieu of expenses "is a parliamentary method of circumventing the $2,500 limit for such legislators as the majority and minority leaders of both houses, the Assembly speaker, and the chairman of major committees.

The Senate majority leader and the Assembly speaker, for example, receive $2,500 pay—the same as any other member—but each also collects $9,000 in lieu of expenses.

A taxpayer action challenging constitutionality of the "lu-lus" is pending in State Supreme Court. The language of the amendment would give the Legislature wide latitude in fixing additional pay for members.

It says: "any member, while serving as an officer of his house or in any special capacity therein... also may be paid... in addition any allowance which may be fixed by law for the particular and additional service."

Conceivably, the chairman of every committee would be eligible for extra compensation. Committee membership itself might be considered service in a special capacity.

Ramadier Says

bers—12 Socialists, six Popular Republicans, two Radical Socialists and two Independents—to 13—seven Socialists, three Popular Republicans, two Radical Socialists and one Independent.

The premier, who has been under heavy pressure from both the right and the left—de Gaulle's victory in last Sunday's municipal elections and labor's demand for a 57 per cent increase in minimum wage scales—said the streamlining was undertaken because:

"We realized that it was necessary in this hour to give the government the possibility of rapid decision and for this end to concentrate authority in a smaller number of hands."

Ramadier purged Communists from the cabinet last May 1. An authoritative informant said before announcement of the new cabinet this morning that the reorganization was intended to exclude ministers with de Gaulle's leanings.

The deputies, when they return Tuesday, will have before them nearly complete results of the municipal elections, in which de Gaulle's triumph caused a revision of considerable political thinking in France.

The second half of the municipal voting will take place Sunday to choose local officials in most towns under 9,000 population. Returns from that balloting are not expected to change essentially the percentages chalked up last Sunday.

De Gaulle's apparent percentage of the vote cast continued to run at about 40 per cent and one of his spokesmen declared last night that the Ramadier government "no longer represents more than 30 per cents of the people."

The Communist share of the vote—about 28 to 30 per cent—coupled with that polled by de Gaulle's Rally of the French People (R.P.F.) and de Gaulle-led coalitions, totals about 70 per cent of the vote.

Bard College Talk Is Broadcast on Several Stations

Elliott Roosevelt and GOP
Leader Hold Forum
Marshall Plan; Is Due for WKNY

Annandale-on-Hudson, October 23—Elliott Roosevelt strongly endorsed the Marshall Plan and stated that it was also highly important that the United States take moral leadership in the world in a broadcast Wednesday night, from Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson.

Mr. Roosevelt appeared with George C. Conway, Republican leader of the Connecticut General Assembly and Bard College Representative on the weekly program of the Connecticut Forum of the Air. The issue discussed was "Are the foreign policies of the United States and the Soviet Union Threatening the Future of the United Nations?" The program was heard over Connecticut Stations WNLG, New London, WNOG, Norwich, WWCN, Waterbury, and WSTC, Stamford, from 8 to 8:30 p. m. and over WKNY, Poughkeepsie, from 8:30 to 9 p. m.

Conway's Reaction
Mr. Conway, Connecticut Republican leader, said that while he was in large agreement with Mr. Roosevelt, he must insist that the present struggle in the United Nations "existed" because the present Soviet Government was taking deliberate measures to destroy the United Nations to keep itself in power. If we could only reach the Russian people, he said, some form of understanding might be achieved.

Mr. Roosevelt declared that the present differences of opinion between the two governments must be reconciled and could be. The Soviet Union disapproves of the Marshall plan, for example, because it fears that it will be used by us for political rather than humanitarian purposes. Russia is the last great isolationist state and must be understood as such.
Other participants included Laurance Henderson, technical asstant to Sen. Ralph Flanders, and Bard student, Miss Shirley Butler. Bard student, Dr. Adolf Sturmthal, Professor of Economics, Bard College, Anthony Garvan, instructor in History at Bard College, was the Moderator.

The program will be rebroadcast on Sunday, October 26 from 1:30 p. m. to 2 p. m. over Connecticut stations WCCO Hartford, WMMW, Meriden, WABC, New Haven, and WCLF, Torrington, and over WENY, Kingston, from 2 to 2:30 p. m.

These days, Old Man H.C.L. is always letting out his belt. What can you do to take it up a notch or two? Cut your own costs for heating—that's what to do! As a heating unit, the General Electric oil-fired boiler is (in 'teen-ager's talk) "super." Provides year 'round, domestic hot water, too. But, here's something the grown folks ought to know—G.E. operates on a remarkably low fuel rate. Will it make savings for you?

WE'LL SURVEY YOUR HOME—COMPARE COSTS, FREE

Let's have a look at your old plant. Let's compare its cost with the economy of a General Electric. Let's see if you will be joining the group that reported in the past—

"FUEL SAVINGS, 25% to 30%—SINCE G.E."
